CAPABILITY STATEMENT

EFFICIENT AND COST EFFECTIVE

Taylor Distribution Group is a Texas-based Limited Liability Company. It was founded July 2008. The company distributes a wide variety of commodities that are useful to the government in healthcare, law enforcement forensics, wastewater treatment and public health. Founder Artura Taylor has a background in quality, safety, operations and supply chain management which has enabled her to utilize her experience and integrate new ideas to meet her customers' needs.

VALUABLE SALES FORCE

We have captured a niche market in the public sector. Manufacturers appreciate our ability to fit in and become a valuable extended sales force. So much so, TDG was recently awarded $4.9 million in lab and pharmaceutical supplies contracts with the City of Dallas. Having seasoned business acumen has resulted in successfully shifting our model to capture lucrative deals within the healthcare wholesale distribution industry. We understand commodities, procurement processes and the importance of quality. Call on TDG for help.

SUPPLY CHAIN MANAGEMENT

TDG offers supply chain management, quality assurance and procurement management services you can trust to call on first. We are introducing new technology to help streamline the purchasing, shipping and accounting process to make doing business with us - easier.

EXECUTIVE PROFILE

Artura Taylor is an executive with more than 25 years of both corporate and entrepreneurial experience. Her educational background, along with extensive professional and managerial experience provides an unusual breadth of cross functional and cross industry expertise. Artura is using her experience attained from holding Executive-level positions in real estate and construction with companies like McDonalds, Greyhound Lines, and Burger King to build TDG into recognized commodities, pharmaceutical & medical products distributor.

Evidence of expansion is TDG recent award of $2.7 million pharmaceutical and lab supplies contracts through the City of Dallas in April, 2011. Having seasoned business acumen has resulted in successfully shifting of efforts to lucrative markets within the wholesale healthcare distribution industry and a niche government market.

Prior to forming Taylor Distribution Group, Artura Taylor used her Fortune 500 experience to build Quest Transportation Inc. into one of the largest Minority Woman Owned Interstate Transportation Companies in the Southwest.

Boasting a contractual base to include but not limited to all of the Phillip Morris Companies: General Foods, Kraft, Miller Brewing, Oscar Mayer, Louis Rich, and Tombstone Pizza; in addition, Ralston Purina, Quaker Oats, Dow Chemical and Mervyns. Through her direction and leadership she was responsible for: assisting in raising capital to purchase company which generated over $3 million the first year; tripled annual revenues to $10 million the next year by capturing new markets and negotiating major contracts with Fortune 100 companies, which would yield up to $20 million over a 5-year period. As a result of efforts, Artura Taylor and Quest Transportation:

- Won "Entrepreneur of the Year," Chamber of Commerce presented by Miller Brewing
- Won the "Quest for Success Award" DFW MSDC

Artura Taylor holds a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Southern Methodist University (SMU).
